++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Becoming milder with outbreaks of rain.

Today:
A bright and chilly start in the south and east with ice possible on untreated surfaces. Otherwise cloudy with outbreaks of rain, sleet and snow, any snow short lived as milder conditions spread east. Strengthening westerly winds.

Tonight:
Much milder than we have seen recently with cloudy conditions and outbreaks of rain. Some heavier busts in the west, but any rain light and patchy in the east.

Tuesday:
Cloudy with outbreaks of rain, heavy and persistent at times. Turning more showery from the northwest late in the day. Strong winds at times with some coastal gales.

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Bright and breezy with showers on Wednesday, these wintry at times as it turns colder. Mainly bright and chilly on Thursday, but rain and snow later. Wintry showers on Friday.
